BEAUFORT NATIONAL CEMETERY, BEAUFORT, S. C.

This National Cemetery is beautifully situated about three-quarters of a mile from the town of Beaufort, South Carolina, and one-half mile from Beaufort River. It contains thirty-one acres of land; the ground is high and little rolling.

The construction of this cemetery was commenced in 1863 and completed in 1868. The bodies interred therein are the remains of deceased Union soldiers and employés who were originally buried at the race course and at the potter's field cemetery at Charleston, South Carolina; at Port Royal, Saint Helena, Cave Island, Otter Island, Bray's Island, Paris Island, Henry Island, Morris Island, Edisto Island, Folly Island, James Island, Sullivan Island, and Beauford Island and Hilton Head, South Carolina; points on the Savannah, Georgia, Railroad, Pocotaligo Bridge, Stony Creek, Mitchell's place, Elliot's farm, and Millen prison cemetery, Georgia.

The cemetery proper is laid out in the form of a half-circle, with graveled avenues diverging from the main entrance, and with graveled or grassed paths intersecting these avenues almost at right angles. It has also a shelled carriage-road running around the cemetery; and all of these roads have been properly graded and drained.

At the main entrance is a neat brick lodge, originally intended for the accommodation of the superintendent, but, owing to the unhealthy and malarious climate, it has become necessary to hire quarters outside for that purpose. The lodge is, therefore, used now as an office and to receive visitors. Five wells have been sunk, which furnish a full supply of water for visitors and for irrigation purposes.

The cemetery is inclosed with a picket fence, inside of which has been planted an Osage orange hedge, which is in a thriving condition. A flag-staff has been erected at the main entrance on a mound ten feet high and thirty feet in diameter at the base, from which flies, in fair weather, the national ensign. A large number of trees and shrubs have been planted, and grow well. Four cannon monuments have been erected; and everything will be done to ornament the cemetery, and to make it a suitable resting-place for the brave men who lie here. The land was purchased by the United States from the State of South Carolina, at a tax sale, for the sum of seventy-five dollars. The deed, dated February 10, 1863, was certified as valid by the Attorney General of the United States March 25, 1868.

The number of interments in this cemetery is as follows :

Number of known soldiers	4, 857
Number of unknown soldiers	2, 655

NATCHEZ NATIONAL CEMETERY,
NATCHEZ, MISSISSIPPI.

NATCHEZ, MISSISSIPPI, NATIONAL CEMETERY.

This National Cemetery, unsurpassed in beauty by any in the country, is situated on the east side of the "Upper River Road," about one and one-half miles north of the landing at Natchez, half a mile north of the United States Marine Hospital, and two hundred yards northwest of the city cemetery. It is about one-fourth of a mile from the Mississippi River, and a hundred yards from the edge of a high bluff. The highest part of the cemetery overlooks the Mississippi in both directions. It is an irregular four-sided tract of land, containing 11.70 acres. The total length of the boundary lines is 2,667 feet.

The construction of this cemetery was not commenced till 1866, and it is being completed now, in 1871. The bodies interred therein are the remains of deceased Union soldiers, which have been brought from their original burial places at Natchez, Port Gibson, and Prio's race-track, Mississippi; and Vidalia, Concordia Parish, Waterproof, Cross Bayou Ferry, Red River Landing, and Turnbull's Island, Louisiana, and at various places opposite the mouth of Red River.

The cemetery proper is laid out in curves and irregular figures, divided by avenues and drives, and intersected by paths and walks, all of which are properly graded and drained; most of them have been planted with grass, while a few are graveled.

Inside the present picket fence a pyracanthas hedge has been planted, which is thriving well. A contract has been awarded for the building of a substantial brick wall to take the place of the picket fence. At the main entrance a neat and substantial brick lodge has been built for the accommodation of the superintendent. A pump furnishes a full supply of water for the lodge, visitors, and for irrigating purposes. In the center of the cemetery, on a large grassed mound, a flag-staff, flying the national colors, has been erected. A large number of trees and many-colored and sweet-scented plants and shrubs have been set out, and are in a good condition. Three cannon monuments add to the ornamentation of the grounds.

The land was purchased by the United States from private parties at a cost of $1,800, or $153.85 per acre, and is held by a fee-simple title.

The number of interments of Union soldiers in this cemetery is as follows :

Number of known	302
